Blue Tongue Lizard Talk*

Dear Families,

Everything is being finalised for the Myuna Bay camp as Stage 3 will head off early on Monday morning for their 5 day stay. It will certainly be quiet around school without them. I'm sure they will return with many great memories and stories to tell.

Last Friday 51 students were lucky enough to obtain tickets to watch the Invictus Games.

The Invictus Games are an International sporting event where injured and unwell military veterans get to compete against each other.

22 students were able to watch the athletics. There were athletes competing in discus, shotput, long jump and the 1500m. The wheelchair racing was particularly exciting and it was great to see the competitors supporting and encouraging each other. The other 29 students went to watch the Wheel Chair Basketball and participate in an engineering workshop.

By all accounts it was an amazing day and the Hazelbrook students were a very enthusiastic and appreciative audience. Thank you to Mrs Jagger for all her organisation and the staff that attended.

Our library monitors also enjoyed an excursion in to the city to visit the State Library on Friday. They had a wonderful time touring the new exhibits and visiting the Shakespeare Room. The students then had lunch in the lovely Botanical Gardens. Thanks to Mrs Clift for organising such a great opportunity for those students and also to Brian and Bernadette for accompanying them.

Yours in learning,

Emma Jamieson

The CheckMates HPS Chess Club

Last week saw the first gathering of the Hazelbrook Public School Chess Club - here after to be known as The CheckMates. A group of nearly twenty students gathered to battle it out on the checkered board; with furrowed brows of concentration seen from one end of the classroom to the other! The silent concentration was palpable, only to be broken with cries of "check mate". Congratulations to Jack and Jack for their wins and to Will for his two wins in our first week. Our second week saw just as much concentration and a great spirit of battle!

The CheckMates meet every Wednesday at recess in Mrs Lowe's classroom. All are welcome to join the battle!
Mrs Roberts and Ms McCarthy
